Basketball Program

We are able to reach out to young men with special abilities through this unique Promise Academy program because of a step of faith by the Quakerdale Board of Trustees. The Academy receives no state funding.

The financial costs of sending a student to the Academy, including room and board totals $13,000. This can be a barrier for student athletes and their families.

With this in mind, we graciously ask for your support. By contributing to the Prep-Basketball Program you are directly assisting us in providing more student-athletes with positive opportunities to grow and accomplish their goals.”

-Rob Talbot, Executive Director

About Quakerdale's Promise Academy:

The Quakerdale Promise Academy offers a world of opportunities for youth who strongly seek an environment to discover and succeed.

The Academy operates like a boarding school. The educational program is designed to offer a strong foundation for character, leadership, and spiritual growth to the student-athletes.

Prep-Basketball Program

The Promise Academy basketball program provides the environment for young men to further develop their skills on the court and their academic readiness for college

Mission:

The mission of the Quakerdale Promise Academy Department of Athletics is to impact the world for Christ through athletics and to encourage spiritual growth, academic achievement, leadership development and athletic excellence within each student-athlete.

Quakerdale's Promise Academy offers student-athletes:

- A media-rich online curriculum.
- Time and support to receive a high school diploma or college credit.
- Quality training to improve basketball skills.
- More contact with college and university athletic departments.
- A national schedule for exposure and recruitment.
- Mentoring for personal growth.
- Service learning and leadership opportunities.

Coach Stan Hughes

A native of Washington D.C., Coach Stan Hughes has spent over 15 years playing and coaching basketball.

During his career, Hughes coached the D.C. Assault AAU Program, played pro-basketball for the Outlaws, led the Simmons College Basketball Team in Kentucky, and worked with players including Nolan Smith (Duke), Mike Beasley (Miami Heat), Chris Wright (Georgetown), and Moses Abraham (Georgetown).
